

Says Seaplanes Will Fly Across Ocean In 24 Hours

Fokker Sees Mighty Planes of Future Making Unheard of Speed—Says Battleships Will Be Useless.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—"The aeroplane of the future will be at once the most ghastly and sublime machine ever created by the hand of man," says Anthony Fokker, the celebrated Dutch aeroplane inventor, who is now in England securing designs and plans which he will use in his work in furthering military and commercial aviation in the United States.

Aeroplane services crossing the Atlantic five or six times a day, and aeroplanes capable of destroying entire cities in a few hours are the predictions which Fokker makes.

"The aeroplane of the future depends almost entirely on motor and fuel development," Fokker says. "If this continues at the rate of progress we shall very shortly have completely noiseless machines racing every twenty minutes as regularly as the modern train in all directions."

"The actual size and speed of the machines will not increase so enormously as the numbers employed. Some 120 miles per hour, with a range of several hundreds of miles, will be the standard model for commercial purposes during the next ten years."

Passenger machines, he says, in the immediate future, hold more than twenty or thirty passengers, and bombing aeroplanes will be unable to carry much more than 15,000 pounds weight of explosives.

Freight machines, will, of course, be kept as distinct from passenger machines as are goods train and express de luxe on a railway line.

"In twenty years' time the Atlantic will be bridged by an air service running five or six times a day. In fifty years' time it will be bridged by a service which will contain all comforts and distractions of a big ocean liner."

"Palm courts and orchestras, dance floors and dining rooms, card rooms and lounges, all will be there. The journey will take twenty-four hours."

"The war was far too short to develop aircraft."

"The next war will see the utter importance of the battleship. The normal procedure of attack from the air will not be direct. The weakest part of a battleship is its bottom. That is the part which will be attacked. Depth bombs will be released on either side of the doomed ship."

"Condenser system, pipe system, tanks and all will be wrecked by a couple of 5,000-pound bombs, while a third bomb will hit the bottom clean through and should have to be in the navy for the next war."

Retaliation will form the major part of future wars until wars are rendered so hideous and annihilating that they will come to an inevitable end.

"The aeroplane of the future will indeed be at once the most ghastly and sublime ever created by the hand of man."

DIES NEAR RINGGOLD.

G. W. Hughes died yesterday at his home near Ringgold after a protracted illness. He was 38 years of age. Surviving him are his wife and several children, his father, J. A. Hughes, of Danville, and several brothers and sisters. The body will be buried in the Ringgold cemetery this evening at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. J. C. Holland conducting the rites.

Dr. James Peacock Escapes From Pen

Thomasville Physician Who Slew Chief of Police, Slides From Raleigh Prison to Safety Down Blanket Rope.

RALEIGH, Aug. 30.—With a $400 reward chasing him and everything at the State prison trying to pick up tracks, Dr. James Walter Peacock, most distinguished prisoner in the penitentiary, is free today.

The prisoner who slew Chief Taylor of Thomasville more than a year ago, was well up the wall of the prison of insanity and sent to the criminal insane department for life, saved himself to liberty early this morning. In getting away he made as complete a job as he did when he put the courageous chief of police to rest. Evidence of his escape, he wrote on an envelope a small apology to his keeper regretting the necessity for taking a vacation just at this time and indicating a stay of many months, perhaps until next spring. With his devoted fully paid, Dr. Peacock took the sheets and blankets into improvised ropes, let himself down from the third story to the brick wall surrounding the prison, then climbed down from the third story to the brick wall surrounding the prison, then climbed down the ladder to the outside. Not a track has been seen since he jumped off.

An automobile has been found abandoned on the outside had assisted him. The possession of an iron awd does tend to prove collusion somewhere. The prison authorities believe somebody smuggled the instrument to him, but how or when nobody can say. The officials had carefully guarded his communication with the outside. No man was allowed to speak to him without a prison witness present. Dr. Peacock did not work any about the prison, because the law requires nothing of a criminal insane.

OKLAHOMA

Do you remember back in 1915 when one of the hits at the Oklahoma state fair were four cooing girl babies, the Hollis quadruplets? Remember pictures of them that year? Well, here's how they look today Roberta (left) and Leota, sitting in the chair; and Mona (left) and Mary, on the arms of the chair. The Parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Keys, of Hollis, decided to take them to the fair again this year and let folks see how they've grown.

Corruption Charge Arouses Baltimore

Recent Bold Hold-Up Brings Sensational Allegations Bearing on Crime Prevention.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 30.—Baltimore was aroused yesterday by the accusations of corruption and inefficiency in its court, its police department and its whole mechanism of justice that have become an unexpected development of the Hicks, Tasse and Norris Company payroll hold-up.

As a result, the city developed a widespread demand for an investigation of present conditions in all agencies for the prevention and punishment of crime. To the charges made the heads of these departments yesterday were reluctant to reply. But the same charges are repeated by others who have observed conditions.

Among the many charges it is alleged:

1. That Baltimore has a live and thriving underworld, the members of which enjoy the best legal counsel when under arrest, and seem always to escape sentences. Investigation by a reported yesterday showed that some 200 men are listed by the police as underworld characters; that there are four chief gangs now active; that their hangouts are numerous in the neighborhood of Frederick and Baltimore streets.
2. That political bosses interfere with police, magistrates and prosecuting attorneys in behalf of underworld characters. Up to two years ago private detectives, and whenever the operating conditions become such as to cause a freight congestion or blockade.

Superintendent George R. Pou and Warden Sam Busbee testified today to the good behavior of Dr. Peacock. No better prisoner was ever cared for by the State. None had made a nobler effort to prove his sanity. He was anxious to get out in a legal way and he believed that he would escape through legislation or jurisprudence. When the newspaper announced that there was an organized effort to free him, Lexington citizens denied the story and the city repudiated it. But for all that the prison physician had been quoted as convinced that Peacock is now sane, the attorney general had knowledge of a possible habeas corpus proceedings and well-known physicians of the State had been asked to sit on the commission which would pass on Dr. Peacock's sanity. The case is now secret here that the legislative act to free Peacock had been discussed and abandoned on the discovery that the statute was pronounced unconstitutional about a year ago.

The escape of Peacock is hardly to be charged to anybody connected with the legitimate propaganda to get him away. The course that the doctor took is fair testimony to the effectiveness in which that effort has been met. Warden Busbee said this afternoon that the prisoner has been greatly discouraged by recent news and that he had been much set-up by earlier efforts. Dr. Peacock had every reason to believe his friends could free him. His characteristic impatience. He was too restless when his garage burned to make an investigation to determine whether Taylor had anything to do with it or not, so Peacock armed for hostilities. He was out again after being confined to him home. Three ribs were broken by the battle and some congestion of the lung developed.

Nell Wonderwell Reaches New York On Globe Tour

Neil Wonderwell and Leona Smith, globe trotters, whose automobile created no small interest when they passed through Danville some months ago, have reached New York. The New York World prints the following:

Almost three years ago two automobile parties set out from Atlanta, Ga., to see which car could cover the most miles and visit the most countries by 1924. This endurance race was headed by the Wonderwell "Around the World Trip." Car No. 1 of the Wonderwell globe trotters was piloted by Mrs. Nell Wonderwell for the first 100 miles. No. 2 was headed by Capt. Walter Wonderwell, husband of the pilot of the other unit.

Since the motor "gypsies" set out from Atlanta, Sept. 22, 1919, they have travelled thousands of miles and encountered countless exciting experiences.

Yesterday morning Car No. 1 pulled up in front of the Pulitzer Building and the motorists paid a visit to The World offices. In a few minutes the globe-trotting car was surrounded by hundreds, and for a time traffic on Park Row was at a standstill.

The car attracted much attention because of the many autographs painted on it by distinguished men. Some who have autographed the car are President Harding, Gen. Pershing, former Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall, William Jennings Bryan, Chauncey M. Depew, Ben W. Olcott, Governor of Oregon, and President Obregon, Mexico.

Unit No. 2 has covered 152,120 miles, about 5,000 miles more than the distance covered by Unit No. 2. Pilot Wonderwell and her companions have covered all of South America, Central America, Australia, Cuba, the Hawaiian Islands, Mexico, Alaska and part of the United States and Canada. From here they will complete their tour over the United States and Canada. From there they will sail for Barcelona, Spain, and begin a tour of Southern Europe, Asia Minor and India.

Unit No. 2 is in Europe and has covered all the Orient.

The four wanderers who compose the unit now here are Mrs. Nell Wonderwell, of California, pilot, Shirley West of Texas, correspondent; Miss Leona, secretary and Robert Spencer, mechanic.

A complete camping outfit is carried. One of the chief motives for the tour was to take the most interesting pictures of all places of importance in the world, and a large camera is equipped. Hundreds of relics have been acquired by the globe trotters, among them being bones of a Neanderthal man, a mammoth, a dinosaur, Indian gongs, a Mexican, a natural cork formed by growing trees in the swamps of Louisiana.

Their travel tales have many thrills. All the paths have not been seen with their own eyes. While in the motor went wrong and for ten days Pilot Nell Wonderwell's party was stalled. The men in the group travelled 32 miles for supplies. The car had to be topped during the tie-up for drinking. Several hold-ups and accidents are included in the annals of the travellers.

The entire expenses of the trip must be earned on the road and to accomplish this the party is selling pamphlets.

House Ready To Vote On Coal Bill

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The House was expected to reach a vote today on the administration of coal distribution bill which stood unchanged in the face of attempts to put through various amendments.

Two Are Held As Abductors Of Young Girls

Herman Clark and Gus Dowdy are under arrest charged with a grave felony Saturday morning the alleged abduction of Connie Lee, aged 14, and Gertrude Williams, under 18 years of age, and whose present whereabouts are, according to the police, unknown to their parents.

The warrants in the case are for abduction, serious crime in itself. It is possible, the police assert, that evidence may be developed which will change the complexion of the pending cases to something far more serious. Clark is in jail and Dowdy at liberty on a $500 bond.

Complaint was made by Mrs. Mattie Lee, of Floyd street on Tuesday that her daughter, still a child had gone and with her the Williams girl. The complaint was made to Police Sergeant J. H. Martin and Patrolman O. J. Bates, who instituted search for Clark and Dowdy. Martin who lives on South Main Street, the previous afternoon had seen the two girls in an automobile with the men headed South. Clark was the first man arrested. He was taken to the police station. The statement that the girls had been taken across the State line and that they had been "dumped out." Dowdy hearing that he was sought soon surrendered to the police and is understood to have declined any statement.

The whereabouts of the two girls is still unknown although Chief of Police Bell said this morning that he had a clue which might lead to their being found at Durham, N. C.

The case has been going provisionally for Saturday morning although there is still small chance of it being gone into unless the girls are found and brought back. Much depends upon the story they tell, the police assert.

Wanted: Some Queens For Danville Fair

Enquiry at the office of the Danville Fair Association fails to reveal any nominations for queen of the fair this far, either by Danville as a community or any of the surrounding counties.

Henry R. Watkins, secretary, said that this was a matter which must be left to the counties themselves and the nominees could not be suggested by the Fair Association. The Fair Association believes that the counties should get together and determine the nominees themselves. Two will be allotted to Pittsylvania, two to Danville, and one each from Halifax, Giles, Rockingham and Henry counties. The nominees will be voted on not as the most beautiful young women of their respective counties but as the most popular.

New Rumors of War In Balkans

His Car Is Stolen And Quickly Found

A few minutes after N. L. Dalrymple had reported to the police at 10:30 o'clock the theft of his Ford automobile, between 1:30 and 7:45 o'clock he reported the recovery of the car. The message saying that it had been found standing in front of the Virginia Hardware Company's store and that it was intact.

Mr. Dalrymple told the police that he had parked the car close to Fox's undertaking establishment this morning at 7:30 o'clock and that later he found that it was missing.

The police are trying to discover under what circumstances it was moving. A peculiar feature of the car's removal is the fact that the machine was equipped with a safety steering wheel, this being equipped with a lock which when turned leaves the steering wheel free and unconnected from the steering pillar. Mr. Dalrymple said that the safety wheel was locked when he left his car.

Boy Is Stung 25 Times By Bees

YORK, Pa., Aug. 31.—All kinds of hard luck surrounded George E. Bowersox, a young son of the Rev. and Mrs. George E. Bowersox, of Shrewsbury, this county, who is visiting at Silver Run, Md.

He had a finger on his right hand cut by a lawn mower, causing an ugly wound and sustaining an injury to his foot by treading on a hay fork. With a number of other boys he was attending a picnic, at which he was stung 25 times by bees. He is now taking treatment for a boil on the right side of his body caused by the stings of the bees.

Pitcher and Goblet Is Sent to Hooker

Lester Hooker who conducted Senator Swanson's campaign in Virginia prior to the recent primary, has been donated a handsome silver pitcher and goblet from a group of the senator's friends as a testimonial to his service in behalf of Senator Swanson.

Following are names inscribed on the pitcher: Joseph Button, C. C. Barksdale, William D. Cardwell, Andrew J. Gray, Jr., Julien Gunn, Samuel L. Hays, W. M. Donahoe, George W. McDaniel, Thomas B. McAdams, John M. Purcell, William F. Rheath, Clyde W. Saunders, H. M. Smith and Hiram M. Smith. The gift was forwarded to Mr. Hooker by mail to his home at Stuart, Va.

Two Motives Found In Giberson Case

J. B. Anderson Is Named As Delegate

Hon. Joseph B. Anderson has been appointed by Governor Trinkle as one of the Virginia delegates to the fifteenth annual conference on taxation to be held at the University of Minnesota, September 13 to 22. Mr. Anderson's familiarity with the Virginia tax question and the fact that he has for years been regarded an authority on this subject was a factor in appointing him.

The State, however, makes no provision for the payment of expenses to the conferences and the appointee, if he goes, is compelled to stand the cost of the trip. Mr. Anderson said this morning that he would not attend the conference which is far off this year. He has, however, followed the course of these meetings for several years past. The whole subject of taxation is exhaustively gone into and tax experts appear to make deliver addresses on the subject.

Crop Conditions in Old Dominion

Synopsis of weather and crop conditions in Virginia for week ending August 29, 1922.

The week has been quite favorable for farm work. The greater part of the State received a beneficial rain for corn and for putting the soil in condition for plowing. In other portions of the State plowing is in progress under favorable soil conditions except it is rather wet in some north central counties. Corn has made excellent progress and cutting is general. Cutting dark tobacco is in progress but is rather wet for curing in central south-side counties. Reports of fruit do not indicate any material change from previous reports, although apples are reported plentiful in survey county. White potatoes are good but reports of damage by blight continue from southwest counties. Truck and sweet potatoes continue good, melons are abundant. Heavy rains fell in the southeast with local damage to corn. A severe wind storm occurred at Norfolk on the 27th.

H. E. Menefee Dies At Rocky Mount

(Special to The Bee.) ROCKY MOUNT, Va., Aug. 31.—Henry Eldridge Menefee, aged 54, died yesterday at his home in Ferrum after an illness of several months, from a complication of diseases.

He was the son of the late Richard Menefee and Catherine Hart Menefee, of near Rocky Mount. He was one of the most prominent and prosperous citizens of Ferrum and former postmaster. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Lula Angie and seven children, Miss Jewel Bernice, William, Crump, Marvin, Myrtle, Henry and Virginia, also three sisters, Mrs. M. B. Burch and Misses Mattie and Laura Menefee, of Rocky Mount, and two brothers, Edgar H. Menefee, of Greenville, N. C., and Richard W. Menefee, of Ferrum.

Hungarian Forces Massing on Western Border and Jugo-Slav Troops Are Also Moving.

(By The Associated Press.) VIENNA, Aug. 31.—Reports of a concentration of Hungarian forces on the western border of Austria are officially confirmed. Travelers from the South report a Jugo-Slav troop movement on the Austrian frontier but rumors of actual Jugo-Slav mobilization are unconfirmed.

Talbot's Primary Expense $1,279.02

Frank Talbot has filed with the Clerk of the Corporation Court his statement of expenditures for the nomination for superintendent of public utilities in the recent Democratic primary. The sum total spent by him and his friends was $1,279.02 according to the sworn statement recorded. The law provides that candidates shall not make disclosure of their expenses under oath of his personal expense but those of friends working in his behalf.

The expenses were as follows:

Primary fee	$200.00
Printing letter to voters	387.96
Advertising	44.20
Stenographic work	113.37
Headquarters expenses	21.00
Publicity	64.23
Telephones	18.23
Miscellaneous	40.00
Total	$1,279.02

Eugene H. Marshall who opposed Mr. Talbot in the primary has not yet filed his expense sheet. This, however, probably will be turned in during the course of the next day or two.

Negroes Are Fined For Stealing Corn

Percy Sergeant and his brother, Lockett Sergeant, negroes employed by James I. Prichett and Son, were today each fined $31.95, being convicted of the larceny of six bags of corn valued at $119. The men sold the corn and failed to make any return of it. The product was missed by the owner. The negroes and police detectives found part of it in the Lockett home. The negroes claimed that they intended to make a return of the sale later.

Things at Such a Pass With an "Had to Kill Husband," Prosecution Claims—Held for the Grand Jury

TOMS RIVER, N. J., Aug. 30.—Mrs. Ivy R. Giberson, 38, charged with the murder of her husband, William H. Giberson, was held today for the grand jury. She was held at Lakehurst, near here, August 14, was held today by Justice of the Peace Joseph B. Willis without bail for the action of the Ocean county grand jury.

Mrs. Giberson wore a black dress and displayed the same calm she has shown since her imprisonment. She smiled slightly at verbal clashes between her attorney, former Judge William H. Jeffers, and Frank Parker, the Burlington county detective, who was the only witness examined.

Parker told how he went to the home the day of the shooting and repeated the story Mrs. Giberson told him about her husband. He said she killed her husband while he slept and then bound and gagged her and fled with about $600. He told of finding Giberson's pistol in an outbuilding after Mrs. Giberson had said her husband had been shot by burglars.

Former Judge Jeffrey then demanded that the court dismiss the prisoner, on the ground that the state had failed to establish prima facie proof of guilt.

"The case is," he said, "built on the suspicions of this man Parker. The court has no right to deprive my client of his liberty on such thin-skinned testimony."

Prosecutor Wilfred H. Jarne, in demanding that Mrs. Giberson be held, declared her husband had been "murdered in a cold blooded and dastardly manner."

Mrs. Giberson, who sat with her back to the prisoner, turned in her chair and looked at the last minute at the truth of emotion. When she was being led back to prison she told Under Sheriff Brown that Justice Willis seemed to be far more nervous in his effort to prevail in the hearing than she was to have to go through it.

The inquest, which was to have taken place at Lakehurst and for which nine witnesses were summoned, was postponed at the last minute after a conference by Prosecutor Jarne, Jeffrey Parker and the coroner, Dr. Frank Browner. The inquest was set for September 12, but the grand jury will meet September 13 and may never be a record.

Prosecution has formulated two motives for the murder. It was formed this afternoon and although their nature has not been disclosed, they were so strong that Mrs. Giberson had to kill him, as things had come to such a pass, according to detective Parker. He reiterated his belief that the woman committed the crime unaided.

Coal Deliveries Here Restricted By Rail Strike

The Danville tobacco market will not open earlier than October 2nd. Hope to start the new season at least two weeks earlier than the opening date set by the Danville Tobacco Association at its annual session last June went glimmering yesterday when a conference was held at the Chamber of Commerce this being participated in by members of the Tobacco Association, local warehousemen, the Retail Merchants Association and the Chamber of Commerce to hear the answers to letters sent by W. P. Boatwright, president of the last named organization to the larger buying companies.

The two largest companies, the American Tobacco Company and the Export Leaf Tobacco Company found it impossible to change the arrangements which they had already made and it was considered highly unwise to open the market before the buyers of these companies which take in such a vast amount of the annual Old Belt crop can be here. The same was true of several of the other large independent buying firms. It seems that the companies lay their plans early in the summer and dispose of their personnel so that when the markets in the various belts shall be covered when the seasons open. To bring buyers to Danville earlier than October 2nd would mean a complete revision of these plans. As to securing additional corps of buyers for the extra two weeks this could hardly be accomplished.

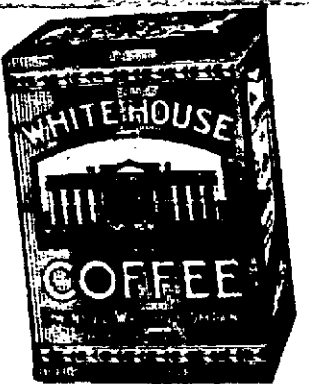

While the crop is earlier this year, and some of the surrounding markets are opening from a week to ten days earlier than the date set for the opening of the local market, it was decided yesterday that it was in the interest of farmers to open the market before a full corps of buyers could be on the market. Experience of other years has shown that the local offerings of tobacco could not bring the best prices until representatives of all the larger companies were on the market in full force.

As offerings before that date would be sold at something of a sacrifice, it was decided to adhere to the usual date. It is possible that some of the largest buyers of Old Belt tobacco will not be on any of the Old Belt markets until the first of October, and the representatives at the conference decided that it would be a mistake to open the Danville market until it could be opened under circumstances whereby the interest of the producers of tobacco would be protected.

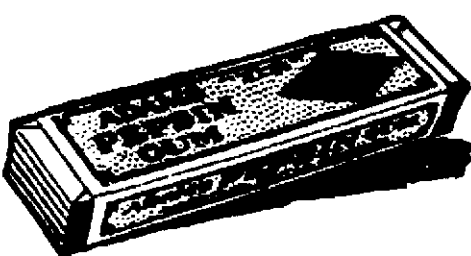

The warehousemen appear to have been anxious for an earlier opening but only on the condition that the large companies are fully represented at the opening. Present indications point to the season being started off in the auction warehouses with prices as high as competition can make them, hence the desire particularly for the big companies to be on hand. The Grocers Association which has leased two warehouses in Danville has not set a date for the acceptance of first deliveries but this is expected to be seen a week or two after the auction market has been started.

BLEASE-MCLEOD SECOND RACE SEPTEMBER 12

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 31.—With only 24 of the state's 1207 precincts reported in the South Carolina Democratic primary Tuesday a second race between Cole L. Blease and Thomas G. McLeod for the nomination for governor is certain. It is estimated that 5,000 votes are to be reported, indicating that approximately 75 per cent. of the total enrollment of 226,581 voted.

The tabulated vote at 1 o'clock this morning gave for governor: Cole L. Blease 11,796; Thomas G. McLeod 61,896; George K. Laney 20,638; William Coleman 3,469; John T. Duncan 1,692; and J. J. Cantey 1,178. A second race will be run by Blease and McLeod, with the second primary September 12.

On the face of incomplete returns, E. B. Jackson of Wagener has apparently been nominated for lieutenant governor, he having a majority of 2,460 over both his opponents. The tabulated vote in this race was: Jackson 71,393; Dr. E. C. L. Adams 34,987; J. K. Owens 33,946.

R. E. Craig has been nominated for adjutant and inspector general over T. B. Marshall. Mr. Craig has a lead of more than 10,000 over his opponent. The vote last night stood: Craig 83,064; Marshall 73,036. A second race will be run for state superintendent of education, apparently between John E. Swearingen, incumbent, and J. H. Hope. The vote for the office was: Swearingen 40,509; Hope 34,566; Mrs. Bessie Rodgers Drake 32,790; Mrs. E. B. Wallace 21,240; C. H. Seigler 8,401; O. D. Seay 8,070.

Another race in which a second vote may be required for a decision is that of attorney general. Latest returns give Mr. Wolfe a majority of only 597 over his two opponents. The votes counted give: Wolfe 81,338; Harold Eubanks 40,356; D. M. Winter 40,838.

W. Banks Dove was renominated for secretary of state, Walter E. Duncan for comptroller general, and B. Harris for commissioner of agriculture, by large majorities.

S. Carter was renominated for state treasurer without opposition. W. Turner Logan was renominated from the first district to Congress, as was Fred H. Dominick in the third and H. P. Fulmer in the seventh. A second primary will be necessary between P. H. Stoll, incumbent, and A. H. Gasque in the sixth. James F. Byrnes in the second, John J. McSwain in the fourth and W. F. Stevenson in the fifth were renominated without opposition.

FIVE INDICTED FOR MURDER

FORSYTH, Ga., Aug. 30.—Five Macon men were indicted late today by the Monroe county grand jury on charge of murder in connection with the lynching of John Glover, a negro, in this county on August 1. The sheriff and three deputies have gone to Macon to make arrests.

FOUR ARE ARRESTED

MACON, Ga., Aug. 30.—Four men were arrested and taken to the Bibb county jail during the night on indictments returned by the Monroe county grand jury today, charging the murder in connection with the lynching of John Glover, negro, on August 1. The men, all held without bail, are: Troy Raines, grocer; Nathan Unice, soft-drink dealer; Gordon Herndon, mechanic; and H. L. McSwain, loan and insurance agent. The officers announced that they were hunting for D. L. Wood, hotel clerk, the fifth man named in the lynching indictment, and who also is under indictment in Bibb county. Wood, according to the officers, disappeared several days ago.

Ford Refuses to Avert Shutdown of His Plants

DETROIT, Aug. 30.—(By The Associated Press.)—Henry Ford, today refused to avert a shutdown of his automobile plants here September 16 at the expense of the domestic coal users of the northwest. It was learned by The Associated Press from a reliable source.

According to this information Mr. Ford charges that priority coal consigned to the northwest has been ofered to him by coal brokers in telegram reaching his office here. The manufacturer refused to purchase the fuel, holding it would not be a humanitarian act to take coal intended to relieve the suffering of men, women and children during the coming winter.

Mr. Ford was quoted as saying that "coal bootleggers" had offered to "steal this coal" and sell it to him. Reports emanating from West Virginia that the Ford company had refused coal offered at normal prices was explained at the Ford plants. It was asserted that the fuel so offered was steam coal, a product of little use in the Ford industry because it contains a high sulphur content. A low sulphur coal is required for blast furnace work. Ordinary steam coal, it was explained, would ruin the metals used in the Ford plants. Only about 1 per cent. of the coal used in the Ford factories here can be of the steam variety, it was stated.

Despite the determination of Mr. Ford to close his factories here unless he can obtain the kind of coal he needs at normal prices, the Detroit industrial district took heart today when it was announced the General Motors Corporation, employing between 75,000 and 100,000 men, had a 30 day supply of coal available. Closing of the various plants of Ford Corporation in different parts of the country it was explained, would affect hundreds of thousands of workmen employed by concerns depending upon General Motors for various materials.

TO WITHDRAW TROOPS FROM SALISBURY FRI.

SALISBURY, N. C., Aug. 30.—At the conclusion of a conference tonight with representatives of the Southern railway striking shopmen and civil authorities, Colonel Don Scott announced that his 500 troops brought here ten days ago, would be moved home tomorrow.

Colonel Scott said he had assurances from the strikers and officials and the men inside the shops that they could control the situation.

Colonel Scott this afternoon withdrew the detachment of troops who have been on duty in Salisbury for more than a week, moving them to the camp at the fair grounds.

QUIET PREVAILS

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 30.—National guardsmen, who for 3 weeks have been stationed in Salisbury and vicinity for emergency use during the strike of seventeen hundred Southern shopmen at Spencer, will be withdrawn by noon Thursday, Adjutant General J. Van B. Metts announced today following instructions from the governor.

Governor Morrison's direction for the removal of troops is in line with his order for the removal of companies stationed in similar areas in Rocky Mount, Rockingham, Raleigh and Aberdeen. Absolute quiet prevailed in the strike area and no further good, it is stated, will be accomplished by holding the force of five hundred guardsmen at Salisbury. The removal will be accomplished by noon Thursday, according to Adjutant General Metts.

ALL EFFORTS TO SAVE LIFE OF DUPRE FAIL

ATLANTA, Aug. 30.—Frank B. DuPre, 25-year-old slayer of Irby C. Walker, a private detective, will be hanged in Fulton county jail Friday sometime between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. It became almost certain tonight after Governor Thomas W. Hardwick refused to grant a thirty day reprieve.

The governor's action followed by a few hours that of the Georgia supreme court which refused to issue a writ of mandamus nisi upon Judge D. Humphries of the Fulton superior court, to show cause why he did not entertain a plea of habeas corpus filed by counsel for DuPre Thursday.

H. A. Allen, attorney for DuPre, stated tonight that he had not yet given up hope for the youth, but said he did not know that his next move would be.

Governor Hardwick yesterday refused to commute the death sentence of DuPre to life imprisonment, turning down a petition signed by more than 15,000 persons, a great many of whom were women.

—Mrs. W. H. Wood and Mrs. Joseph Moore, of Roanoke, spent the week-end with Mrs. W. O. Lee, West Main street.

GRETNA SCHOOL OPEN SEPT. 13

GRETNA, August 30.—The Gretna High school will open September 13. Three additional teachers have been added and a much larger enrollment is expected. Professor Shilton is making arrangements for extra rooms until the addition to the present school buildings is completed.

A new building is being erected on Henry street for a better and more up-to-date restaurant.

Large crowds attended the recent show which spent a week in Gretna. The recent rains have been a great help to late corn and tobacco. Tobacco generally, is curing with a good color, and the bulk of the crop will be in the barns by September 1, which is much earlier than usual.

One of the best ball games ever played in Gretna was played between Gretna and Rocky Mount last Wednesday, the score being 5 to 4 in favor of Gretna.

C. D. Hunt who was so painfully injured about two weeks ago while working on one of the oil trucks, is able to walk the streets again.

Little Cecil Shackleton is also out again.

Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Pearson and little daughter Marguerite Irvine, also A. L. Witcher, Jr., of Richmond, spent the week-end in Gretna. Dr. Pearson and family are spending a few days with his father and mother near Callands. A. L. Witcher, Jr., expects to spend the greater part of his two weeks vacation in Gretna.

Edwin Brumfield, who has been in West Virginia for the past several months is expected to be at home about September 1 and will spend his vacation in and near Gretna.

Misses Lula Pearson and Clara James Witcher have returned from Asheville, N. C.

Miss Ruby Turner, of Lynchburg, is visiting several of her old friends in Gretna.

Miss Agnes Adams has returned from a two weeks visit in Chatham, Miss Dorothy Graber is visiting friends in W. Va.

W. W. Aldice and family have just returned from a visit to relatives in Chicago.

FATHER AND TWO CHILDREN KILLED

GOVERNEUR, N. Y., August 30.—Lila and Madeline Wells, six and eight years old, set out to meet their father tonight on his way home from work in a quarry near here. They took the route over the New York Central railroad trestle in Williams street. When they were more than half way across they saw their father, William Wells. He saw them, and behind them, a fast approaching train. He tried to beat the train to rescue the children. He lost the race, and all three were killed.

—Mrs. H. B. Nash, of Tampa, Fla., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. John Majcum, on Patton street.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lewis and children, Elsie and J. W. Jr., have returned to their home in Winter Haven, Fla., after spending the summer months in Virginia with relatives.

Market Not to Open Earlier

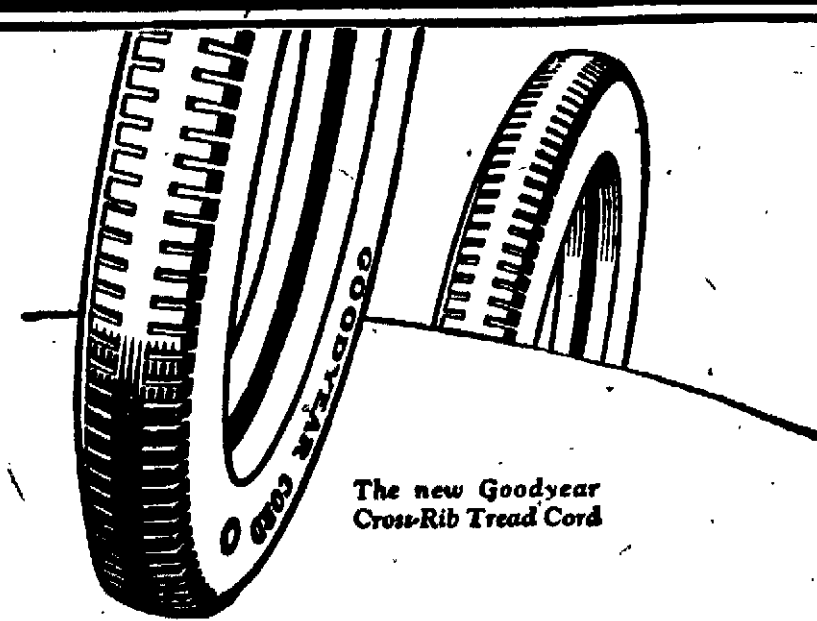

W. P. Boatwright, president of the Chamber of Commerce who spent Tuesday at Richmond conferring with Alexander Forward, state fuel commissioner, told the fuel committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon that while the production of coal is increasing with the settlement of the controversy between bituminous miners and operators that the rail strike is materially restricting distribution. Just now it looks as though the supplying of industrial and domestic users of fuel is going to be on the hand-to-mouth scale throughout the winter. The impaired cars again made available the sooner will come a restoration to normal conditions.

Mr. Forward gave Mr. Boatwright orders for the delivery of coal to local dealers who are complaining of the slender stocks on hand and while may be filled at the hear of the mine is unquestionable in view of the railway situation if these orders can be promptly delivered. The mine operators, it is explained cannot mine coal regardless of the availability of cars. The fuel taken out of the earth has to be loaded on cars immediately and when these ceases to be available there is an immediate slowing up of production.

The Danville dealers have virtually no coal on hand, the supplies at the industrial plants have not been materially increased while about 2 per cent. of the winter demand has been filled with coal. The users has been filled with cold weather now rapidly approaching.

Discounting the "Discount" in Advance

You don't have to be a shrewd bargainer to get the bottom price on the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Instead of listing it at a high price, to enable the dealer to attract you with a so-called "long discount," we list it as low as we profitably can. You can see from the figures below that its advertised price is lower than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value.

We believe the average man would rather buy tires on this frank and open basis, and assure himself a product of recognized worth.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord is made of high-grade long-staple cotton, and it embodies the patented Goodyear method of group-ply construction.

In design, materials and manufacture it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

It has a different tread from the famous All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for substantially less.

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

Uncle Sam May Keep Troops In Rhine Region

Menacing European Situation May Result in Change of United States' Policy—Germany Hopes So.

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, Aug. 31.—The American government has responded to inquiry as to the propriety of keeping American troops on the Rhine.

The present attitude of the French government is said to be one of indifference, while Germany has expressed a desire that the American garrison continue being, likely the Germans believe to exercise a calming influence over Belgium, French, and British forces of occupation.

Missing Broker's
Wife Well Known
In This City

The tragic death of J. H. Moon, a Richmond broker, who is believed to have fallen overboard the New York to Norfolk steamer on Monday has peculiar interest in Danville. Mr. Moon was comparatively recently married to Miss Catherine Scales, who frequently visited Danville and who is well known here. Mrs. Moon is a niece of Mrs. A. M. Scales of Danville also of General A. M. Scales of Greensboro, and a niece of W. H. Cobb of Richmond.

Local relatives clung to the hope that Moon's baggage might have been placed on the ship while he himself changing his plans at the eleventh hour decided to come South by rail. Today Lawrence private intelligence came that all hope for finding him alive had been abandoned.

Today it was reported Senator Swanson had been asked to have a coast guard cutter to follow the course of the steamer in the hope that the body might be recovered. The account of the circumstances surrounding his death emanating from Norfolk is as follows:

Police and department of justice agents are investigating the singular disappearance of Edward H. Moon, prominent young broker of Richmond, who was missing from his stateroom on the Old Dominion steamer Jefferson when it arrived here yesterday morning from New York.

They are seeking William Coan, of Lexington, Va., who is supposed to have shared the stateroom with him. They believe he can assist in unraveling the mystery. Mr. Coan and his wife originally were assigned to stateroom 27. A friend of Mrs. Coan, Mrs. L. B. Starnes, of Lexington, was assigned to stateroom 29 with Mrs. F. C. Bass, of Brooklyn. In order to make room for Mrs. Detamore in his wife's room, Mr. Coan requested that he be given another room. Consequently, he was transferred to a berth in stateroom 72, which had been engaged by Mr. Moon.

Baggage Still in Room
When Detectives Nowitzky and Burch boarded the Jefferson yesterday at noon after Mr. Moon's disappearance, one clue led to the police by Captain Guy E. Horsley. In command of the ship, they found in Stateroom 72 two black handbags, one of them bearing Mr. Moon's initials and the other a tag with his wife's name written on it. Suspended from the hooks on the door were the missing man's coat, vest, top shirt, collar and necktie. In the vest pocket was a gold watch bearing the initial "M." and a gold chain and a gold penknife with the initials "E. H. M." engraved on them.

In the room also was found a straw hat. Apparently it did not belong to Mr. Moon, as an imprint of the initials "D. H. C." was discernible on the inside, the pasted-in initials having been torn out. A golf ball, a number of golf shoes and other personal effects were found in the room.

Both bunk beds in the stateroom, according to Detective Nowitzky, bore evidence of having been occupied. But the room was not in disarray. There was no indication of a struggle of any sort having taken place in the room.

Coan Had Left Boat
Mr. Coan and his wife and Mrs. Detamore had left the boat when the police arrived, and all efforts of the police to locate them in Norfolk last night proved fruitless. Every hotel in the city was visited by detectives in quest of them, but there was no trace of them to be found. Efforts to reach them in Lexington were equally disheartening.

George Langley, a colored waiter on the steamer, is the only man interviewed by the police who claimed to have seen Mr. Moon aboard the Jefferson. Langley told Detectives Nowitzky and Burch that he carried the Richmond man's baggage aboard the steamer in New York. He declared that Mr. Moon followed him up the gangplank and that he conducted him to stateroom 72. Langley said that he did not see Mr. Moon after he took the baggage to his stateroom.

L. Kenyon, of Suffolk, occupied stateroom 70, immediately adjoining that assigned to Mr. Moon and Mr. Coan. In a long distance telephone conversation last night, Dr. Kenyon declared that during the trip from New York he saw only one man enter or come out of stateroom 72. This man evidently was Mr. Coan, as Dr. Kenyon described him as a rather small man. Mr. Moon is said to be 6 feet tall and of athletic build.

Heard No Commotion
"I heard no commotion of any sort," the room during the night, Dr. Kenyon said, "but I did observe that the lights were kept burning in there until early in the morning. I supposed that the occupant was reading. I heard no snatches of conversation or anything else to indicate that there was more than one person in the room."

Discovery of Mr. Moon's effects was made by a maid when she entered the stateroom after the passengers had left the boat. She immediately notified Captain Horsley, who after setting himself that the owner of the clothing and baggage was not on the steamer, communicated with the police. Later the department of justice was notified.

Mr. Moon is 32 years old. He is the president of the Moon Brokerage company, of Richmond, and has resided in that city since 1920. Prior to that time he lived in Lynchburg. He is prominently connected in Richmond with the Commonwealth Club and of the Commonwealth Club.

With his wife and niece he had spent several weeks in New York.

ELECTRIC BELL NOW
HELPS TRAFFIC COP

Police Officer J. C. Collie was having a good time in the traffic box this morning. The signal box has been equipped with an electric bell and the paddy he rings the electric bell. Pedestrians mistook the contraption for an alarm clock this morning and the more or less constant "ting-a-ling-a-ling" of the bell advertised its presence in the neighborhood.

Late sleepers in the Hotel Burton leaped out of bed to answer the telephone and there was monetary confusion in the real estate office which is a few feet from the bell and where the jingle first was mistaken for a phone call.

Coal Operators
Protect Selves
By Sight Draft

The operators of coal mines in West Virginia do not appear to be taking any chances of losing money out of the continuation of the railway strike and the consequent interruption of the coal supply. A local dealer showed a report today a new wrinkle devised by the operators and designed to protect them from loss. When once coal is loaded onto cars and dispatched for a given destination the mine companies have no assurance of it reaching the assignee. Accordingly, they are now sending out sight draft agreements to the dealers who buy coal which have to be signed before the dealer's order is filled. The substance of this agreement is that the coal operator can draw on the dealer purchasing the coal the moment the coal is loaded on the cars. The local dealer said that under this procedure it is possible for the coal operator to get cash for his coal before it even leaves the mine head.

Belgium Has
Moratorium Plan

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, Aug. 31.—The Allied reparations commission has decided to accept Belgium's moratorium plan on the German reparations, proposition as a solution with present crisis, it is learned this afternoon.

A formal vote will be taken before the day is over, it is said. The attitude of Mr. Vandervelde, member of the Belgian cabinet, in declaring that he was not definitely known when the body might be recovered. The session adjourned.

HOW TO PREVENT STRIKES?
"ARBITRATION," SAY EXPERTS

With the mind of the nation centered on the problem of strikes, statements have been secured from four of the country's leading economic authorities on what they regard as a solution of industrial unrest.

These men, who have made a study of the nation's industrial ills, are unanimous in declaring that arbitration is the means of preventing strikes. They explain in detail how they believe industrial conflicts could be settled satisfactorily and without loss to either worker or employer.

FROM THE BOARD OF REVIEW

(By WILLARD E. ATKINS, M. A., University of Chicago.)

The outstanding need at the present time is for machinery of conciliation, as was suggested by the Industrial conference of March, 1920, together with more information as to the facts beneath the controversies. Because of the absence of machinery engaged in a constant study of industry there are few people competent to get the opposing sides together, and because of the absence of authoritative information the public has little opportunity to arrive at a unanimous opinion on the subject. Nothing short of a comprehensive and continuous fact-finding and fact-reporting agency is sufficient.

At most it is impossible to look for complete industrial peace. There never has or never will be such a state of affairs, since capital and labor are both struggling for larger slices of the national income. The strike, therefore, will continue until labor can find some device which it believes will produce better results. Our aim should be to reduce strikes to a minimum and not to forbid them.

There are those who believe in the adoption of the principle of the Kansas or Industrial Relations. I am not one of them. Compulsion is a principle of limited usefulness in any case, and especially compulsion by a court is not a device which tends toward peace with labor. Applied in the industrial states of the north and east, the Kansas principle might lead to increasing conflict and the authority of the state openly defied by labor.

FAVORS ARBITRATION

(By DR. W. M. W. SPLAWN, Professor of Economics, University of Texas.)

Continuous arbitration seems to me to be the most promising substitute for the strike. It means that, in a given industry a committee as impartial and as competent as can be had would sit from day to day ready to hear and decide any differences between employers and employees which they themselves had failed to adjust. It is desirable that the machinery for continuous arbitration shall be set up through the voluntary action of employers and employees and without suggestions or interference by the government, as has been done by agreement between the clothing manufacturers and the amalgamated clothing workers.

In the public utilities, service must be uninterrupted. This reason seems that the public is justified in setting up agencies for continuous arbitration where the owners of the utilities properties and their employees fall to do so. The United States labor board is such an agency. Kansas is experimenting with a court of industrial relations which is an agency for continuous arbitration. It may be objected that it would be difficult to enforce the decisions of the arbiters. In the clothing trade the decisions for several years have been enforced through the agreement of both sides to abide by them. This is the arrangement which should be encouraged and developed in most industries. In the public utilities, a wage earner could be given the understanding that when he enters the employment of such a company all disputes over wages, hours and working conditions would be referred to a committee and that it would be unlawful to strike against the committee's decisions. An engineer now understands that he may not abandon his engine before the end of the run. For soldiers to strike a mutiny. The strike and the lockout can be outlawed and at the same time all rights of employees and employers can be safeguarded and protected.

TUGS JOINT COMMITTEE
BY JOHN R. COMMONS

Professor Economics, University of Wisconsin.

I am opposed to compulsory arbitration, or anything like the Kansas court proposal of the Australian or Canadian proposal.

I think that a standing joint committee with an impartial chairman, paid equally by both sides, would be the best solution for the settlement of strikes. The plan would be on the basis of collective bargaining and the agreement would be made for a year.

Attempts to Collect
Debt Is Shot in Lung

MOUNT AIRY, Aug. 31.—Wiley Lineback, of Virginia, is a patient in the hospital in this city as the result of a pistol shot wound at the hands of Wm. Edwards, also of Virginia.

It seems that Edwards owed Lineback a small sum of money, which the latter for some reason unable to collect. Edwards had been down to Winston with produce and Lineback decided to wait along the road, Monday until his return, to collect.

They both live a few miles from town, but across the Virginia line and the altercation occurred near a little store about six miles out on the Fancy Gap road. When Edwards drove up, Lineback, it is alleged, demanded his money, and words and blows followed. Edwards being pretty badly beaten up. The fight stopped and Lineback declared he had his money's worth, but before they left the place the quarrel was renewed and this time Edwards fired three shots at Lineback, one of which lodged in his lung very near the heart. He grappled with his opponent after being shot and took the pistol away from him, but there were no more bullets in it. Lineback was brought to this city and his condition is serious, though it is thought he will recover if no complications develop. Edwards escaped and has not yet been apprehended. It is said that Edwards secured the weapon from his wagon after the first fight.

Car Shortage
Hits the Mines

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 31.—The car shortage is already curtailing the output on the Indiana mines, according to Chairman McCardle, of the State Public Service Commission. He said reports indicate that nearly a score of mines are in-operative due to lack of cars.

This was slowly but successfully accomplished. In order to accomplish the same result with employees of public utilities, we must have the same deliberate developments of regulation and the same progress in education which has required in case of managers.

There is no short cut and I doubt if any man today can fortell the exact steps which will have to be taken. I am in favor of supporting the railway labor board in every possible way in the present emergency. As a practical expedient because the board is the only body concerned with the strike which expresses public interests. It is more important to support the board than it is to settle the strike. If the two things can be conceived of as antagonistic, the great thing is not to settle any particular controversy but make both parties see in the end that monopolistic power over public necessities cannot be used for personal advantage of either interest concerned. This should be emphatic with full and fair considerations of the rights of the participants in dispute.

SALISBURY, N. C., Aug. 31.—National Guard troops stationed here during the shopmen's strike began to move today, following Colonel's Scott's announcement last night.

Motorists Must Have Both Lights Burning

The unhappy motorist whose headlight burns out in transit is subject to a fine of $10 and costs. This was brought out this morning when J. C. Hester, police officer J. M. Nostrandt summoned Mr. Hester to court for failing to have both of his headlights lit. Mr. Hester contended that when he left his home both lights were burning and that after he had got into the car one of the bulbs burned out, this resulting in a case being docketed against him.

Mayor Wooding gave Mr. Hester until tomorrow morning to produce witnesses who saw both lights burning when he left his home, otherwise the ten-dollar levy will stand.

The city ordinance makes no provision for burned out bulbs and requires two burning headlights and one light in the rear. A good many car owners say it is impossible for them to tell in the illuminated city just when a bulb has burned out and claim that a conviction under those circumstances is a hardship.

Laurence Strike
Thing Of Past

(By The Associated Press.)
LAWRENCE, Mass., Aug. 31.—The Lawrence textile strike today became a thing of the past. The two remaining mills which held out for lower wages, the Methuen and Pemberton, capitulated and announced that on September 5 the wage scale in effect before March 27, would be restored. Most the eighteen thousand workers normally employed are expected to be back to work early in September.

BELIEVE MOON FELL OVERBOARD

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 30.—Norfolk police tonight accepted the theory that Edward H. Moon, broker of Richmond, fell overboard some time Monday night from the Old Dominion steamship Jefferson while on the way from New York to Norfolk.

Moon was missed from the Jefferson when she docked in Norfolk Tuesday morning, although his two bunk mates, who were in the stateroom he occupied, with William Coal of Lexington, Va., a professor at Washington and Lee university, and of Senator Claude S. Smith in Washington, an effort to have coast guard cutters and other craft searching along the route of the Jefferson at about where Mr. Moon is believed to have fallen overboard for some time of the body.

The theory that he fell overboard is strengthened, the police said, by the story of Professor Coal, who said that Monday night Moon was slightly seasick and expressed great fear that he would become seriously ill. At 11 o'clock when he went to sleep, Mr. Coal told authorities in Richmond today, Moon was lying in his bunk in his trousers and underwear.

J. T. Townes and Henley Detrick are spending a week in New York. They left Sunday going to Norfolk and making the coastwise trip to the Metropolis.

GIRL NOW WELL AND STRONG

Daughter Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as Mother Advised

Wauseon, Ohio.—"My daughter always had backache and leg-ache at certain periods and could not be on her feet at those times. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing girls so much good so she began to take it. That is two years ago and she is a different girl since then. She is able to do any work she wants to do—school, housework, and so well and strong. We recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers with ailing daughters, and I give you permission to publish this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. A. M. BURKHOLDER, Route No. 2, Box 1, Wauseon, Ohio.

Something out of balance will affect the finest clock, causing it to gain or lose. The proper adjustment makes all well. So it is with women. Some trouble may upset you completely. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct the cause of the trouble and disarranged symptoms will disappear as they did in the case of Mrs. Burkholder's daughter.

Richmond Has a Church Row

RICHMOND, Va., August 30.—Churches have been made to the Board of Deacons of Catholic Baptist church against the Rev. Carter A. Jenkins, the pastor, who last Sunday tendered his resignation effective May 1 of next year. The pastor is declared to have said last Sunday that he could not no longer trust the deacons of his church and that he would retire and engage in evangelistic work. The Rev. Mr. Jenkins attained considerable notoriety here a year ago by his position on dancing and its evils, the discourse being repeated several times at the time and was widely discussed. The church has experienced division on the sermon and friction has been brewing for a long time.

The church is a new one and has a large membership but several members have withdrawn in the last few months. The deacon refuse to make public the charges, the hearing being for Tuesday night, and the state set for Monday night. In case Mr. Jenkins is not freed of the charges the pulpit will be declared vacant. The treasurer of the church resigned following the sermon of Sunday. Mr. Jenkins is said to take the position that he would not appear before the deacons, whom he criticized, but that he would submit the case to an impartial committee chosen from the congregation.

NEW EFFORT ON TO RESCUE ENTOMBED MEN

JACKSON, Calif., August 30.—(Associated Press)—A new effort was started today for the rescue of forty-three or more men entombed in the Argonaut mine here since last Sunday night.

While work was continued at reopening a man-way from the 3,500 foot level of the adjacent Kennedy mine into the 4,200 foot level of the Argonaut workings, men crews set to work to break through a wall of rock and dirt from the Kennedy's 3,900 foot level, which would admit of entrance into the Argonaut shaft at a depth of 450 feet.

Miner experts directing the rescue work would not estimate the length of time required to reopen either of the tunnels, but the belief was prevalent that neither crew could hope to reach the imprisoned miners in less than 48 hours.

There were few people about the shafts of the Kennedy and Argonaut mines.

The wives and families of the entombed men, however, gathered at the mouth of the shaft this afternoon to join in prayers for the delivery of the men.

Today rats began pouring from the Argonaut mine in droves. Poison gas fumes are driving them out of the lower levels and they came surging up the timbering by the hundred.

Two years ago when the Argonaut burned, the same thing occurred on the second day after the flames broke out. All gold mines along the Mother Lode are infested with the rodents.

URGENT APPEALS FOR COAL ARE BEING RECEIVED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Urgent appeals for coal are being received by the federal emergency organization from various states. Federal Fuel Distributor Spencer declared tonight with states which do not produce coal making special requests for fuel.

The demand from Mississippi, Mr. Spencer said, "especially for the cotton manufacturing industry, is quite insistent. A considerable tonnage of western Kentucky coal previously intended for use as railway fuel, has been diverted to Mississippi.

Demands from Michigan, Virginia and Maryland are quite urgent. New Hampshire and Vermont, which have practically abandoned the hope of obtaining anthracite, are asking for bituminous suitable for domestic heating.

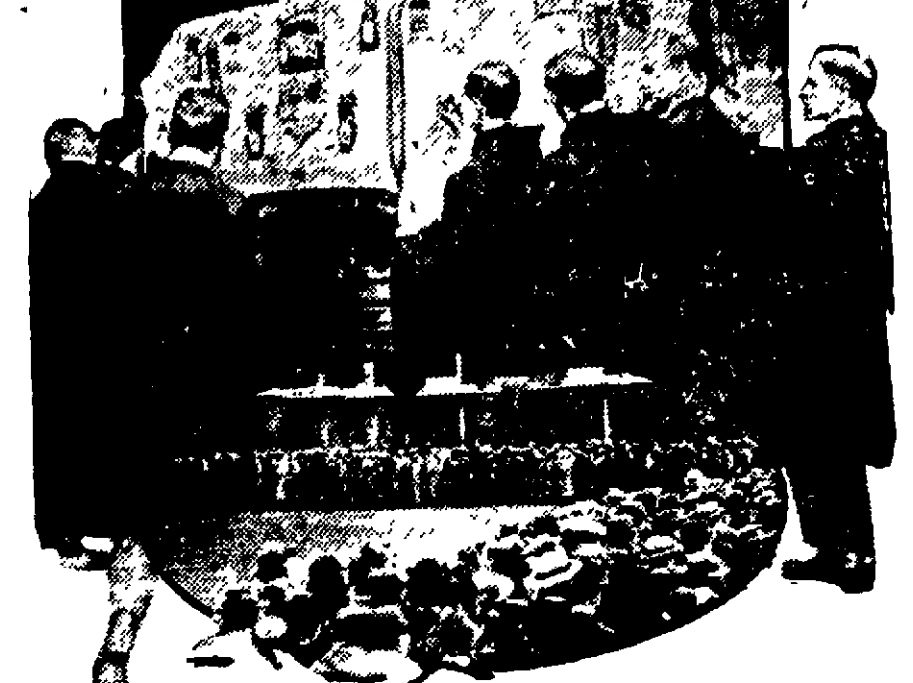

"The federal distribution committee looks for a considerable improvement in these local acute situations within a week or ten days as the flow of coal tends to move in natural channels."

The coal operators committee which has been acting in an advisory capacity to the central organization disbanded today, but Mr. Spencer said the naval and interstate commerce commission representatives on these committees would remain at their stations for some time to adjust various details. Mr. Spencer was expected to retain a skeleton organization in Washington also for a time to serve as a nucleus if needed upon which a full central organization created by Congress could be erected.

RULES CANNOT SEIZE SHIPPING

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 30.—Shipping Board vessels cannot be seized as an outgrowth of Prohibition laws it was ruled by Federal Judge Henry D. Clayton, whose opinion dissuaded local proceedings against the Seapoint Board steamship company.

NORTHCLIFFE FUNERAL

All London mourned the death of Lord Northcliffe, famous British publisher. Picture shows the casket containing the body being borne into Westminster Abbey, and (inset) a section of the huge crowd entering the abbey for the last rites.

HINTON DELAYED IN PENSACOLA

PENSACOLA, Fla., August 30.—Lieutenant Walter Hinton, who arrived in Pensacola this morning, accompanied by his companions to obtain a naval seaplane in which to take up his flight from New York to Rio de Janeiro, which was interrupted when the Sampaio Correia was wrecked last week off Haiti, will be delayed in Pensacola two days or more.

The pilot and members of his party visited the naval air station this afternoon and inspected two H-16 planes, but the usual half holiday spoiled the hope of a trial flight. He will visit the station against tomorrow morning, he stated this afternoon and will probably test out the planes himself. If the find either suitable for raising the fight, it will be purchased from the government, it is understood, through the newspaper backing the expedition.

No official communication, however, in regards to releasing the plane, has been received by the officials. It was stated tonight.

No set schedule will be attempted in the flight down the Florida coast to Guantanamo Bay where the regular itinerary will be resumed. Lieutenant Hinton stated, nor will there be any night flying.

A STILL IN YOUR HOME VOIDS FIRE INSURANCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—If you have a still in your home don't let your insurance agent find it out. Warns Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

"Insurance policies in New Jersey," Haynes declares, "are void on buildings that contain illicit stills."

New Jersey laws provide that policies are void where the hazard is increased by any means within the control or knowledge of the insured, and in the opinion of the commissioner, there is no doubt that a whiskey still increases the fire hazard.

An Embroidered Guimpe "Makes" Sleeveless Dress

WOMAN'S INSTITUTE Fashion Service

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

SLEEVELESS dresses have proved so entirely practical and comfortable that as long as there are possibilities of varying the style, they are assured an enthusiastic reception. In this one-piece model of navy wool crepe, a drop-shoulder ribbon, which binds the neck, pocket, and armhole edges, provide very interesting notes, but it is really the guimpe that makes the style so appealing. This is made of deep ecru fillet net having full sleeves decorated with bright-colored peasant embroidery and a collar edged in a similar manner.

The make-over possibilities of sleeveless dresses are numerous, as the dress itself can very often be cut from renovated material that has been used in another design, while the guimpe may be developed from another dress or perhaps from a remnant purchased at a considerably reduced price.

FRANCE DETERMINED TO GET REPARATIONS FROM GERMANY

PARIS, Aug. 30.—(By The Associated Press)—Urgent determination to obtain reparations from Germany, "the guarantee and enforce such payments in the event that the reparations commission's decision tomorrow should grant a moratorium to Germany without exacting the sums demanded by France in every where evident in French official circles tonight.

While official announcement is withheld, in order not to interfere with the work of the commission and owing to the desire of the French government to allow the German delegates every possible opportunity to make a final proposal which might be acceptable to France, French officials talk and act as if the plan were adopted and France's decision to take coercive measure against Germany had already been decided upon.

The war office also is very busy and in constant communication with General Degoutte's headquarters at Mayence. The movements of troops were reported from Nancy, Metz and the Rhineland and there seemed to be no doubt in the minds of officials generally that the occupation of the Ruhr was a most persistent attitude should the commission's decision go against France.

Herr Schroeder's proposition to the commission are described as "absolutely unacceptable." Premier Poincare had a long conference tonight with M. Viviani and the minister of finance, M. De Lasteyrie. Later he received Andre Lefevre, former minister of war, a most persistent advocate of the adoption of strong measures toward Germany.

M. Lefevre appeared in great spirits as he emerged from the Poincare cabinet.

"Our only chance to get anything from Germany," he said "is for us to go and take it. This is what I have been preaching since the signing of the peace treaty. I am happy to find that my viewpoint will prevail."

Whether the French parliament will be convened in extraordinary session will be decided at a meeting on the capital of while it is doing, but it appears that the French people throughout the country are solidly behind the government, with the exception of the communists and socialists and approve the punitive measures which the government may adopt.

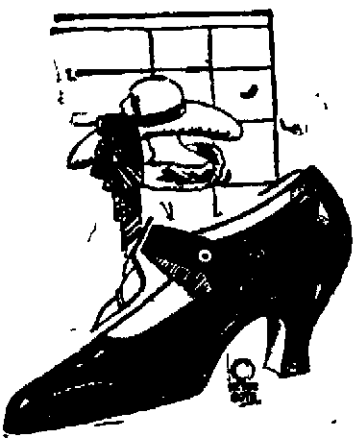

Since the return of M. Poincare from London, members of the cabinet have been busy every Sunday, unveiling monuments to the war dead in many of the large cities, especially those occupied by the Germans during the war. The ministers have promised the people that Germany would atone for the harm done, and the result has been that resolutions of approval have been adopted practically by all the departments of France and sent to the premier urging him to take action.

FARMER IS FOUND WITH THROAT SLASHED

BRISTOL, Va., Aug. 30.—Mystery surrounding the disappearance of H. Crockett Lusaur, sixty wealthy farmer, was solved today when his body with his throat cut was found in the orchard near his home about six miles from Bristol. Lusaur had been missing from his home since Monday evening. He is thought to have become unbalanced and to have taken his own life. An open razor was found near the body. A widow and five children survive.

VOLUME PRODUCTION REDUCES PRICES On Quality Silk Hosiery

See This Week's Saturday Evening Post

EFFECTIVE TODAY, the price of REAL SILK FASHIONED HOSIERY is—box of FOUR pairs for $5.00. This drastic reduction in price comes at a time when our Mills are working night and day, and is made possible by our tremendous volume production. We are today the world's largest exclusive manufacturers of genuine silk hosiery specializing on one single style, in all colors and sizes.

Passing the Saving on to You

Millions of satisfied customers, buying direct from our Mills, have forced our production up and up. With each increase of production, our manufacturing costs were lowered, and WE LOWERED THE PRICE.

We feel that our millions of customers, who have put us in our present position, are entitled to the saving which they themselves have effected, in our manufacturing costs.

In 1920 our capacity was 8,000 pairs per day, and our price was—box of 3 pairs for $6.00.

In 1921 our capacity was 25,000 pairs per day, and the price was reduced to—box of 3 pairs for $5.00.

Now, with the completion of our NEW mills, which increases our capacity to 60,000 pairs per day, we are able to give you—box of 4 pairs for $5.00.

WATCHMEN SLAIN FROM AMBUSH

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 30.—No arrest has been made in connection with the killing from ambush at 5 o'clock this morning of E. M. Foster and Reedy Booth, Southern railway special watchmen, on duty at the Southern railway's yard and repair shop just across the Savannah river from Augusta.

A coroner's jury has investigated the killings, but have secured no evidence on which to base warrants. Solicitor General R. L. Gunter, at Atlanta, says that the authorities have information which they are using as clues and that there is some prospect of securing the assassins. The inquiry was in progress over Foster's body when it became known that Booth had died in a hospital at Augusta, where he had been rushed when he was found fatally wounded in Hamburg. Booth's body was then carried from Augusta to Hamburg and the same jury which investigated as to the Foster killing sat in the Booth case. The jury were able to only pronounce that the killings were the act of parties unknown.

LONG TRESSES FOR NURSES

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 30.—The controversy over bobbed hair, which raged here for several months, broke out anew today when Miss Emma K. Glover, superintendent of the Washington county hospital, issued an order prohibiting nurses from bobbing their hair. One nurse, bobbed her tresses and the order followed.

"I am certainly opposed to bobbed hair for trained nurses," Miss Glover said. "I think it dreadful for a girl to go among all patients with bobbed hair. It is following the frivolous flapper style and is entirely out of keeping with the uniform and the dignity of the profession. Personally, I admire bobbed hair on young girls, but believe a nurse wearing her hair in this style is out of place in a sick room."

HE WILL EXECUTE MURDERER

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 30.—As the time for execution of Eugene Weeks draws near, Winfred E. Robb, ex-pastor and sheriff of Polk county, remains firm in his decision to fulfill his first role as hangman.

Weeks was convicted of the murder of George A. Fiedick, Des Moines grocer.

Robb's determination to carry out his grim duty has aroused debate throughout the state. Many comment on the ex-pastor and many criticize him. Among the latter are many of his former parishioners.

"It is my duty, and I feel called upon to carry out that duty for which the electors sent me to office," he declared.

The date of execution has been set for Sept. 8, the place, Fort Madison penitentiary.

It was Robb who instituted a search for the condemned man and an accomplice which resulted in their capture, after a long hunt through many large cities of the country.

ROBB

GEST A YEAR FOR BURNING DAUGHTER

BAYONNE, N. J., Aug. 30.—When William H. Moore, 34, a blacksmith's helper, was sentenced to a year in the Hudson County Penitentiary for burning the right hand of his six-year-old daughter, Dorothy, Recorder William J. Cain said that Moore deserved to be punished in the same way he had punished his child.

Moore was accused of having held the right hand of the little girl over a stove until even the bones of several fingers were burned.

The child was placed temporarily in the custody of her grandmother until the authorities could further investigate the claims of one who said he adopted the child after taking her from Hope Farm, and that soon afterward she mysteriously disappeared.

He said he had spent thousands of dollars trying to find her.

"This is the most atrocious thing I ever heard of in my seven years on the bench," said Recorder Cain, in passing sentence. "Jail is too good for you. The only fit punishment for you would be to hold you over a fire."

With her right hand and two fingers of her left hand swathed in gauze, the child was the star witness for the prosecution. She gave her testimony perched upon the knee of Recorder Cain. The latter, after drawing the child to him, quickly made friends of little Dorothy. Presently the Court asked the child who hurt her hand.

She replied:

"Daddy burned it while he was drunk."

The child admitted, however, that she had cut her fingers. Her father had also been accused of slashing her fingers after holding her hand over the stove. She said she learned to cut paper dolls at kindergarten in the free school, which she attended. She injured her fingers cutting paper pictures, she said.

When Recorder Cain asked the father why he had burned her, the blacksmith's helper first said that he did not know what he was doing. Later he said he held her hand over the stove to break her of the habit of cutting up everything she laid her hands upon, that he only wanted to scare her and did not realize he was injuring her until she doubled up her fist and burned herself.

HELD FOR CONSPIRACY

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 30.—Larry Ewing and E. Wade were arrested here today by United States Deputy Marshal Bishop on charges of conspiracy to violate the interstate commerce laws. Both were held in custody of federal officers tonight pending the fixing of the bonds.

The compound engine was invented by Hornblower in 1781.

SILHOUETTES VARIABLE

SOMEONE (Mr. Kipling?) once said there were four and forty ways of writing tribal laws; and every single one of them was right.

He will perhaps, forgive the mere dandy of the age for adopting this slogan to the fashion.

There is the basic silhouette with the full skirt. It has been edging its popularity for the past three or four seasons. The women to whom it is becoming most popular.

Then there is the slightly fitted bodice with the long, straight skirt, varied with drooping panels or side drapes.

And by way of a little more variety there is the up-and-down silhouette with the bloused bodice. This usually exaggerates its sleeves for fashionable effect.

Last of all—if you wish, you may buy a gunny sack, cut a hole for your head and tie a girdle about your waist. It's all right! Just carry it off with an air and you'll find precedents aplenty.

Fuel Shortage
Will Not Affect
Many of Mills

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 30.—While the possibility of an enforced shut-down of many textile mills in the Carolinas within the next two or three weeks looms larger daily, most of the mills are expected to remain on hydro-electric power and therefore are not menaced by the growing scarcity of fuel, according to men familiar with the situation.

Many of the mills operated by hydro-electric power use some coal, but comparatively little. It is pointed out. Of this class is the Chadwick-Hoskins company's large chain of mills. E. C. Dwell, secretary of this company, said tonight that their plants have enough coal on hand to last only two or three weeks. According to Winston E. Adams, secretary of the American Cotton Manufacturers association, this is a general statement of that of the electrically driven mills of this section generally.

It was said by these officials that virtually no coal is being received by any mills in this section and unless the situation is relieved somewhat in the next week or two curtailment of operation on the part of many mills will be necessary. Only one mill, the Lancaster cotton mills, of Lancaster, S. C., this far has been reported closed on account of the coal shortage. This company employs around 1,500 workers. It closed Saturday.

It was pointed out that of the 1,000 or more textile plants of all kinds in the two Carolinas, 243, mostly in the piedmont sections, use hydro-electric power exclusively, while 235 use steam power only, and 262 use both electric and steam power, according to the latest available statistics.

No general shut-down of electrically driven plants is expected, according to local textile workers.

REPORT RETURN
OF 1 SHOPMAN

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Aug. 30.—Reports tonight were that one shopman returned to work for the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio railway at Erwin, following General Manager Potteplace's recent notice calling on the men to return and agreeing to protect seniority rights. This report conforms to the statement of railway officials who add, however, that a few other men now strikers, had taken work in the shops; that a number of machinists had returned to work at other points on the line. About two dozen special deputies have been assigned to protective duty at Erwin, but no disorders of any kind have occurred, and it was said tonight that the strikers were passing away the time pitching horseshoes.
